WILL TROPICO FAVOR AN ASSESSMENT FOR THE PROTECTION OF VEDUGO WASH

Property owners along the Verdugo wash are very anxioous to formulate some plan to control the flood waters of that section, but they are of the opinion that the entire community should pay for such protection. This point seems to call for some protest, in fact a vigorous one, and rightly people have a right to protest. It is an uncalled for assessment when property in no way endangered is compelled to pay assessments to protect and increase the value of other holdings.

A few months ago an effort was made and the Board of Supervisors instituted proceedings for an assessment district that included practically all of Tropico to pay for the control of flood waters in the Verdugo canyon wash. This was protested out by conclusively proving that this territory was in no way liable for such damage.

Then an act known as the "County Flood Control District Act" was introduced by Senators Benedict and Carr, which was referred to the Committee on County Government.

This act provides for the establishment of an assessment district for the building and maintaining of such protection and that each parcel of property be assessed according to the benefits received.

The act still further provides for an election to be called for the purpose of voting bonds for the payment of such work.

It is recommended by those who have carefully examined the existing conditions that the matter of the formation of districts assessed according to direct benefits received is the most natural and fair way to control the flood waters. The Board of Supervisors allow each city the privilege of stating their views and voting upon the changes offered, and at a meeting held last week Tropico was represented by only one property owner and were entitled to six. Three to be appointed by the City Trustees and three from the Chamber of Commerce. Last Tuesday evening the Board appointed A. E. Boyce, H. P. Goodwin and J. B. Treadwell, and on Thursday evening the Chamber of Commerce appointed F. E. Peters, W. H. Bullis and Wm. Wattles. These men will keep in touch with this matter and be ready with objections or recommendations whenever needed.

Tropico is absolutely outside of any possible danger from flood waters in the Verdugo canyon wash, and any attempt to include us in an assessment district is an unfair proceedure and should be watched carefully.

CHAS. JARVIS REPLIES TO FATHER O'NIEL'S COMMUNICATION

Editor, The Tropico Sentinel, Tropico, California.

My Dear Sir:—

In last week's Sentinel Rev. James O'Neill gave his reasons why the Roman Catholic Church condemns his concept of Christian Science. It is regrettable that anyone should consider it necessary to go into the press to misrepresent doctrines with which they do not agree, but which are cherished by a large number of their fellow citizens. The only way in which to successfully criticize another's theories is from the standpoint of the author. In the case under consideration, Mrs. Eddy has given us in her textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," a spiritual interpretation of the Bible which the critic has denounced and attempted to disprove from a purely materialistic basis. His premise being erroneous, his conclusions could not be otherwise and it is therefore only fair to your readers to present a word of correction to some of Father O'Neill's statements.

To begin with, he assures us that the doctrines of Christian Science are pantheistic. Now it is safe to assume that no one knows quite as much about the doctrines of Christian Science as its discoverer and founder, Mary Baker Eddy, and she tells us on page 129 of the textbook above referred to, that "Pantheism may be defined as a belief in the intelligence of matter,—a belief which Science overthrows," and again, on page 279, "Pantheism, starting from a material sense of God, seeks cause in effect, Principle in its idea, and life and intelligence in matter." Lest there be any doubt on this point, permit me to refer to Mrs. Eddy's message entitled "Christian Science versus Pantheism" wherein on page 12 we find,—"The Science of Christianity is strictly monotheism,—it has ONE GOD. And this divine infinite Principle, noumenon and phenomena, is demontsrably the self-existent Life, Truth, Love, substance, Spirit, Mind which includes all that the term implies, and is all that is real and eternal."

Mrs. Eddy does not deny the existence of matter to human sense, but she most emphatically denies its ultimate reality and in this she is sustained by many of the world's most profound physical scientists.

It is generally recognized by theologians that the so-called "free will of man" or human will power is man's worst enemy. Passion, appetite, lust, all forms of sensuality, are but differing phases of the human will or "carnal" mind which Paul tells us is "enmity against God" and that "to be carnally minded is death, and whenever the individual has awakened to the recognition of these evil propensities, he is usually found striving by denial to overcome them. Jesus did not rely upon his own will in order to accomplish his results. He said, "I can of mine own self do nothing:" and "the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works."

Again the critic avers "it denies that there is such a thing as sin." Then in support of that conclusion he separates from the context, the following,—"If," says Mrs. Eddy, "soul sinned, it would be mortal. Because soul is immortal, soul cannot sin." Mrs. Eddy's exact words on page 468 of Science and Health are "If Soul sinned, it would be mortal, for sin is mortality's self, because it kills itself. If Truth is immortal, error must be mortal, because error is unlike Truth. Because Soul is immortal, Soul cannot sin, for sin is not the eternal verity of being." From the comparison, it will be seen that the critic failed to distinguish between a false, human sense of soul, and the infinite Soul, which is synonymous with God, to which Mrs. Eddy refers. "To assume that there are no claims of evil," we read on page 448 of Science and

TROPICO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AT FIRST REGULAR MEETING START THINGS TO GOING

The first regular meeting of Tropico's Chamber of Commerce was held in the council chamber of the City Hall last Thursday evening, and a goodly number of members who are public spirited citizens responded to the call.

The secretary reported that the membership totaled 67 to date and the membership committee turned in seven new names, making a total of 74 who have entered into the Chamber with no other reason than to exploit the advantages of Tropico to the homeseeker and the industrial siteseeker.

Already the Chamber is known to outside associations and every mail brings offers of co-operation.

The committee on Public Utilities and Service reported matters that would require immediate attention. It was advised that a committee of three be appointed to act with a similar committee appointed by the Board of Trustees to confer, when necessary, with the central committee of Los Angeles county in the matter of storm drain protection. F. E. Peters, W. H. Bullis and Wm. Wattles were appointed.

That the committee would center action upon the matter of the establishing of a bridge over the river at Ivanhoe and the building of a roadway along Brand Boulevard through to Lake Shore or Alesandro street, thus making a direct route into Los Angeles.

They recommended the proposed branch of the Pacific Electric Railway through to the Antelope Valley via Tropico, Glendale and La Crescenta. They urged that action be taken in Tropico for an election to be held for the purpose of voting bonds to acquire a municipal lighting plant.

Along the lines of improvement and manufacturing, Mr. Herman Paine, manager of the Los Angeles Basket Factory, stated that his company were preparing to make some improvements in Tropico that was highly appreciated by the Chamber. (Complete details appear in another column.)

The Publicity Committee reported that as much press matter as was possible at this time had been used. As soon as funds were available suitable advertising matter would be prepared and distributed where returns were sure. A suggestion that appropriate signs be placed along the street car line and upon public roads announcing the fact that here was Tropico was highly recommended. Also a report was received that Tropico should and could be represented by a series of photographs at Exposition Park and that exhibiting products would also receive proper display. This matter was urged and the Chamber advised to take action.

The membership committee suggested that inasmuch as the Chamber's goal was 200 members, it was right and proper that every member work to secure this number. It was moved that whenever a member secured the application of another to deliver same to the secretary, J. Herbert Smith.

Upon motion the by-laws were amended to read: "Any person in good standing may become a member of the Tropico Chamber of Commerce upon filing application accompanied by dues, subject to the approval of the Chamber.

Upon motion it was decided that the secretary be impowered to appoint an assistant who would act as financial secretary. Frank B. McKenney was appointed and will act in this capacity.

In the matter of properly auditing all bills it was suggested that the chair appoint a committee of three who would act as assistants to the treasurer, and also as an auditing committee. W. H. Bullis, H. P. Goodwin and J. W. Birney were appointed. Several bills were offered and ordered paid.

The start-off of the Chamber of Commerce shows an abundance of work to be done and the spirit in which it is being handled bespeaks only the best returns.

Peculiar, you say. All right, listen.

The above may seem of very little service to The Tropico Sentinel, but it enables the The Tropico Sentinel to render its readers a great service in return.

Why? Because The Tropico Sentinel advertisers will then have proof positive that their advertising is being read by the purchasers of their merchandise.

Instances prove positively that The Tropico Sentinel readers are valued patrons of merchants. The Tropico Sentinel knows this credit belongs to its readers and to no other. The Tropico Sentinel now asks its readers to impress upon the merchant that they are the one important factor in the merchant's success.

The more direct returns The Tropico Sentinel advertisers receive the more frequent will be these advertisers' invitations to you thru The Tropico Sentinel columns to come and trade in their stores. The merchant, if he knows where to find you, will continually offer bargains in exchange for your trade

The more invitations through The Tropico Sentinel's advertising columns the more bargains. The more bargains the more money saved. Consequently---

TROPICO BOY SCOUTS ARRANGE FOR CROWD AT STAR THEATRE

This week is one of the busiest the Boy Scouts of Tropico have seen for a long time. The Scouts are all out selling tickets for their show next Monday night. Half of the proceeds will go toward finishing their new headquarters in the M. E. church. They expect to sell 300 tickets and many more Monday night.

LOS ANGELES BASKET FACTORY TO GREATLY ENLARGE THE TROPICO BRANCH

Mr. Herman Paine, manager of the Los Angeles Basket Factory, appeared before the Board of Trustees last Tuesday evening and asked for permission to close the lower end of Cypress street in order that his company might extend the spur tracks across the street to connect with a building that was being remodeled for the installation of machinery to enlarge the output of that company. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

Presumably this was possible for Mr. Paine stated before the Chamber of Commerce meeting Thursday evening that his company had that day given the order for the immediate installation of $10,000.00 worth of machinery in the large building on the south side of Cypress street and adjoining that company's other holdings.

This machinery is for the manufacture of bushel baskets, for which there is a demand for use in packing peaches, especially in Utah.

At the present time the Utah output averages some $250,000 bushels and the supply has been purchased from the only two factories operating, one at Burlington, Ia., and one at Marshal, Texas.

For several months Mr. Paine and his conferes have been arranging with the railroads and now a freight rate has been settled upon that allows them to compete with other factories and already sufficient orders have been received to warrant the new addition.

The Los Angeles Basket Factory maintains two plants. One in Los Angeles, where fruit boxes are made to supply the markets, and at Tropico, where baskets are made. As the bushel baskets are classed with the small basket it was deemed advisable to keep the departments together.

The installation of this now department means the necessary employment of an additional force.

So in this one instance Tropico is shown as an exceptionably good location for industrial pursuits.

LITTLE OLD TROPICO LOOKS GOOD TO THIS LADY

The following letter speaks for itself:

919 O St., N. W.
Washington, D. C.
March 10, 1915.

Secretary, Chamber of Commerce,
Tropico, Calif.

A recent issue of the Tropico Sentinel informs me of the organization of a Chamber of Commerce in that city. I heartily approve this action, and, as I have been a property owner in Tropico for a number of years, it would be a great pleasure to me to become a member of the Chamber, if women are elegible for such appointment, or of the ladies' auxiliary committee, if the latter be in existence.

Kindly advise me in this regard at your early convenience.

Yours very truly,
MRS. H. M. REYNOLDS.

The above letter brings up the question of "why are ladies not eligible to membership in the Chamber of Commerce?" It is the contention of some of the male members of that body that ladies are eligible and should be invited to become members. In these days of equal rights woman should be allowed to take a hand in civic matters along with the men, and surely Tropico has some workers who would be an addition worth noticing.

WAR OR WORK

By William C. Anderson

Mr. Gardner, congressman from Massachusetts, is having one awful time trying to ascertain if we are prepared for war.

Mr. Garrison, Secretary of War, recommends that the army be recruited to its full strength.

Civilian rifle clubs is the third line of defense. There are sixteen of these clubs in the State of California.

The Boy Scouts are scattered over the land in goodly numbers, National Guards are plenty, regular troops are plenty, and in all we have an army of 14,000,000 trained and untrained soldiers.

The Dick military law made soldiers of all able-bodied men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five. It is the "All-American" law that was passed, and slipped over on us, when we were too busy in the panic of 1907 to bother with what was going on in Washington.

It was the same law that imposed military duty on 14,000,000 peace abiding citizens; men who would rather work and play than carry muskets, drive army mules and tote cannons around. The law calls us the untrained militia. That is, we are boob soldiers, soldiers "what ain't" soldiers.

When Mr. Dick drafted the bill he forgot to make it compulsory · us to furnish our own blunderbusses, our own canned meat, and r own reasons for going to war. It should compel us to learn to arrel with typhoid germs and to go nine days without food and ter. To be a real soldier one must know how to do these things.

The European war has done much to drive men war-mad. They · forgetting that business has suffered a depression since Septem-r, 1913. Or they think that while we are doing very little we ght as well prepare for war.

One newspaper has already made the call for 3,000,000 young men ined as soldiers. The call is urgent, "at once!" But men do not spond to newspaper calls for men to fight, or men to prepare for ir.

Why the big rush? Papers that were pleading for peace a few eks ago are now calling for young men by the millions. What for? hoo!

A few months they had us at war with Mexico. The theater or-stras played national airs, banners floated and everybody when d—wild over the ball games. They were more interested in who s pitching than in the rat of trying to stir up a conflict to protect ne man's wealth in Mexico's bleached hills.

And, what would we do with three million young men soldiers, d haven't we enough idle men now? It is surely easier to feed and othe men who are willing to work than it is to care for three millions o are forced into military idleness. Why create more idleness? there isn't enough, there will be, if things gradually improve while y grow worse.

If we had an army of the size demanded by those who advocate lions of soldiers, what would we feed them? Who would they t with, and where would the equipment come from? We havn't muskets, except the ones that the boys in blue and the boys in y stuck away in cubby holes after the Civil War. And our powder vet.

The biggest fight any soldier ever put up, is to get food. That s proven in the Civil War, the Spanish War, and it is evident in present war.

The least a country can do for its warriors is to feed them, clothe m, and cover them at night. But they plunge into war, enlist men, ck muskets over their shoulders and start them on the march. After y have been at the front for a few weeks it occurs to some one that men might like a sandwich, and they ship them a supply of socks.

It is all very nice for ambitious politicians to make soldiers of us, t we would rather have them give us a chance to do some business. would be much better if 3,000,000 young men were trained for rk and allowed to go forth and trade, unhampered by selfish inter-s, and not shackled by Rooseveltian legislation. They should be rmitted to do so much business that they wouldn't have time to nk about war.

If the war-mad insist upon war, let them send our navy over the and tell Bill Kaiser that the Belgians have had enough, and that y are too proud to "squeal," and as we were not very busy at home thought we would take an exeursion over and help out.

If we keep out of the present war for six months we will have the st powerful navy in the world, the greatest army, assurance of ace that will last for years, and we will be the busiest nation in the rld forever.

We should hold hard still while the conflict lasts, but the danger s in the fact that we are both war-mad and workless.

The warring nations will accept any man who desires to play in game of war. The consuls for the countries engaged will pass m along to the front. It should appeal to those who are pleading surcease from peace.

We should either go to war or go to work.

Health, "and yet to indulge them, is a moral offense."

The critic's further assertions that Christian Science denies the omnipotence of God; the incarnation of Jesus; Mary's spiritual conception; the suffering, death, resurrection and ascension of Jesus; the judgement of mortals or the denial of the trinity, may all very readily be disproved by a brief reference to the Christian Science textbook, with which Father O'Neill is obviously quite unfamiliar.

I thank you for your courtesy in presenting the foregoing facts and remain, sincerely yours,

STILL IN BUSINESS AT THE OLD STAND

March 21 in Los Angeles and the surrounding cities is "Go to Church Sunday." Every civilized white man or woman or child should join the procession. No objection to those who may not be white. Every man should be white inside.

Several new members are to be received Sunday morning. Special music of a high quality will be furnished, both vocal and orchestral, at the Sunday School, Epworth League, morning and evening services. Sunday School, 9:30 a. m., Prof. Goodell, Supt. DAMON AND PYTHIAS—AN ETERNAL FRIENDSHIP

No story with a heart-beat in it has ever lasted and lived more vividly through all the ages than the wonderfully beautiful narrative of the friendship of "Damon and Pythias." These two noble figures have stood heroically in all the flight of time an everlasting evidence of man's humanity to his fellow man and countless thousands have found life more blessed because of the example. Then it is no wonder that the progressive photo play producer should realize that in this great and appealing human story was the subject of subjects. The always quick to see what is wanted most and wanted first by the public, the Universal Company has made of this presentation their premier dramatic spectable. Living in the pomp and glory that radiated through Greece in the height of its day, these two noble figures are the central feature of a story of impelling power, dramatic intensity and a sentiment that is at once heart reaching. The real friendship of these warriors and leaders of men and of the great test to which it is put fills the six parts with a plot of absorbing interest, and one that bristles with the thrill of unexpected climaxes and the throb of exciting pulses. The Universal has made this the costliest production of its active and brilliant career, showing the wonderful scenes in a superb spectacular and effective manner and with accuracy and the effectiveness that comes from real creative realization. Battles, the throngs at the games, the classic dances, the thrill of the charioteers, the conflicts at sea are pictured with wonderful power while the real sentiment of the story is brought out with a tenderness that is lasting. The Alhambra theater of Los Angeles has been fortunate in securing this sensational feature for the attraction for one week beginning on Sunday afternoon, March 21, at 2 o'clock. It will come here not only with the stamp of enthusiastic metropolitan approval, but with the unusual record of having the full hearty endorsement of the Supreme Lodge of the Knights of Pythias, who in all parts of the country have hailed the coming of this presentation as an event laden with splendid opportunities for teaching, with its entertaining features, the great influence of the order of the foundation of its ritual—the friendship of Damon and Pythias. Seats will be only 15 and 25 cents at the Alhambra theater, Los Angeles, for one week beginning Sunday, March 21st.

Mrs. Metcalf of East Acacia, together with several other members of the Parent-Teachers Association, gave a sewing at her home Tuesday, March 16, to help furnish clothes for needy children in a school in North Los Angeles.

SOME advertisements GO OFF like a bunch of FIRECRACKERS.

Others are as STAID as a QUAKERMEETING.

Each is PROPER if it attracts the RIGHT kind of attention.

But, whatever the style adopted, it must serve the primary purpose of advertising. It must ATTRACT ATTENTION and PERSUADE or CONVINCE the reader.

Even in a RELIABLE and PAYING advertising medium, such as this paper undoubtedly is, an ad. must HIT THE NAIL on the head properly or lose half its EFFECTIVENESS.

All else on earth is meane.

The rowlinge of the drum,
The clangor of the trumpet lowde,

And, oh, the thundering presse of knightes,
Whenas their war-cryes swell,
May tole from heaven an angel bright
And rouse a fiend from hell!

Then mounte, then mounte, brave gallants all,
And don your helmes amaine!

Us to the field againe.
No shrewish feares shall fill our eye
When the sword-hilt's in our hand.
